Generator Cables and Accessories

Duraline Generator Cables and Accessories provide durable and easy to use solutions to any standard equipped L14-30 generator. Commonly found in household and commercial generators, the L14-30 connector provides 208v single-phase power output. Our specialty made products allow maximum use of your generator by utilizing a split-phase 120v system, and are designed to be extremely durable. Our product line includes spiders and splitters, extension cables, power stringers, and even replacement parts. We can also produce custom parts to suit any need. Our products provide solutions for any circumstance!

The Generator Cables and Accessories are suited to several industries and personal use: storm generators, construction sites, highway road work locations can benefit from our systems! All assemblies are made with 600v SOOW cable, and are tested to ensure the highest quality. Contact our sales team today, and remember; plug us in for safety!
